Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in burning sores, pustules, eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore throats, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles Hood's Sarsaparilla, and am cured." C. E. LOVASTON, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

Is one of the most disagreeable diseases caused by impure blood. It is readily cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well."

My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the sides of his legs. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. Stanton, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

THE GREAT REGULATOR

—PURELY VEGETABLE—

—ARE YOU—BILIOUS?

The Regulator never fails to cure. It is a purely vegetable medicine, and is the only one of the kind that is safe for the most delicate and infirm.

DO YOU WANT GOOD DIGESTION?

With this Regulator, a sufferer who has taken many other medicines, and who has been told that he could never get well, has now found that he can eat and sleep as well as he ever did, and that he is now a healthy man.

H. G. CHURCHMAN, Hillsboro, O.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM CONSTIPATION?

Testimony of HANNA WATSON, Chief Justice of the County of Highland, Ohio, who has used the Regulator for many years, and who has been told that she could never get well, and who has now found that she can eat and sleep as well as she ever did, and that she is now a healthy woman.

H. G. CHURCHMAN, Hillsboro, O.

SAFER AND BETTER

THAN CALOMEL! I have been suffering from constipation for many years, and have tried many other medicines, but have never found one that was so safe and so effective as the Regulator.

It is a purely vegetable medicine, and is the only one of the kind that is safe for the most delicate and infirm.

Heidelberg.

would resemble a village, and grass grow before their doors." The nightly wall is now being removed. At the eastern end of the town is the Carls-Thor. This gate owes its origin to the circumstances, that in the year 1785, the municipal treasury rejoiced in a surplus of 80,000 florins. The city fathers in their embarrassment, how to dispose of the money and in the exuberance of their joy at the expressed, but never fulfilled, intention of the Elector to bring back his court to Heidelberg Castle, resolved, upon the erection of this monument to Charles Theodore, whose statue, together with that of the goddess Minerva, adorn it.

Beyond the Carls-Thor, the rugged and precipitous granite cliffs, approach nearer and nearer to the river. "Here the situation and scenery," says Goethe, "are not picturesque, but they present a prospect of great natural beauty. Opposite, the lofty, well-cultivated vineyards are seen in their whole extent; the little cottages, with their arched roofs interspersed among them, have a very pretty effect, and there are some which might pass as miniature studies for a painter."

The bridge, as viewed from here, is, perhaps, equalled in beauty by no other bridge in the world; through its arches the Neckar is seen flowing toward the flat Rhine districts, and above it are the light blue mountains beyond the Rhine, in the distance. The new bridge, at the west end of town, is of quite modern appearance; having been completed nine years ago. It lacks the picturesque charm of the old bridge, although it is in itself a masterpiece of modern proportions. From it, a view of the plain, with its valleys, of the Alsatian mountains in the dim distance, of Heidelberg, with all its points of interest near, to the east, is of enchanting beauty, when, on sunny afternoons, a silvery haze shrouds the entire landscape in a transparent veil. From Mark Twain it drew the following: "I have never enjoyed a view which had such a serene and satisfying charm about it as this one gives."

Very truly, J. G. HIRONS, Number 11, Ober Neckar street.

IN MEMORIAM.

JAMES BROWN.

To the Editors of HILLSBORO NEWS-HERALD:

I read in last week's News-Herald the item relating to the death of James Brown, of Bedford, and while some one else may write an extended obituary giving the prominent facts of his life, I want to write of that which I know. For three years I was his pastor, although he was not a member of my church. Yet the first Sabbath I preached at Bedford he was present and at the close of the service came forward and gave me a hearty welcome to the place and to his home.

He was a true friend, a good counsellor, and whenever at his home—a home. He was an earnest believer in the truths of Christianity—his heart was full of love for God and for his fellow men. He was a man of many talents, and he was a man of many virtues. He was a man of many virtues, and he was a man of many talents. He was a man of many virtues, and he was a man of many talents.

He was a man of many virtues, and he was a man of many talents. He was a man of many virtues, and he was a man of many talents. He was a man of many virtues, and he was a man of many talents. He was a man of many virtues, and he was a man of many talents.

He was a man of many virtues, and he was a man of many talents. He was a man of many virtues, and he was a man of many talents. He was a man of many virtues, and he was a man of many talents. He was a man of many virtues, and he was a man of many talents.
